Our friend, Wm. Pinn, sees proper to criticise the late effort of a Mr. Cogswell, who claimed to be talking in behalf of the working man, in the following article:

Mr. Editor:—If there is one thing more than another it is that if I possessed a brain and a use of the pen to compare with your abilities in, that respect. Oh! how I would expose a new born babe of yesterday! You will do me a favor by admitting me to ask a question through your excellent columns, and a greater favor by answering it. The question is this: How is it that cheap labor in the shape of African slavery was admitted to live on this continent three hundred years, for it was brought into this continent 1544 or 1545, by Lord John Hawkins, in which time slaveholders and the democratic party were the ruling element for four-fifths of that time, and not a word was said from that quarter about its effect on the laboring class.
They not only lived through the days of Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, Pierce, and Buchanan, as presidents of our republic, but Calhoun, Webster, and Clay went through rebuking a single legislative enactment in favor of cheap labor, notwithstanding it was so injurious to the laboring class. Nor was a word said by the democratic party until God in his Providence used the abolitionist or republican party to do the very work, and they did it at the risk of their blood and treasure, while this democratic party was working to spread slavery over this entire land and sap the very foundation of the laboring class for which they now seem to have so much sympathy. Why, sir, they are a thousand years behind the age. The republican party has done all in that direction that is necessary. Let us the people, keep them in power who saved the country in the hands of God.
If one, two, or a half dozen of them violate good faith, let us send them home. God will find honest republicans to fill their places. The babe says he is opposed to both parties. If so, why does he not denounce some of the acts of congress from Jackson to Abraham Lincoln? He does not denounce a single democratic act. Why don't this babe tell us about the Mexican war which was to make room for slavery?
The repeal of the Missouri compromise to make room for slavery? And the fugitive slave law to protect slavery?
Not a word about them but all about republican acts such as giving lands, and loaning money to the Pacific R.
R. company—bonds and the manner of paying them; and how the government bowed on their knees to negotiate money to save the country, and admitted these men to propose their own terms of lending it.

This babe is a prince out the bowels of the democratic party, a son of Jeff Davis, and if we admit him to grow to the stature of a man physically and politically he will try to revenge the blood of the south.

A word to my colored race. Look out for this new fangled babe. We are the poorest of the laboring classes, we will be easiest reached. He will come to us a lamb; but he will be in sheep's clothing. All he wants of us is to help him to power; to put us in his pocket, and to make the white man worse than a self.

Let justice be done though the world perish.

The man who knows the world will not be bashful, and he who knows himself will not be imprudent.
The more we fear crosses, the more reason we have to think that we need them. We ought to judge of the violence of our disease by the remedies which our spiritual physician prescribes for us.

The bad man diffusing the hue of his own spirit over the world, sees it full of treachery, selfishness, and deceit. The good man is looking for and sees noble qualities.

If you wish to attain success in life, make perseverance your bosom friend, experience your wise counselor, cauguardian genius.

If one speaks ill of you, consider whether he has truth on his side, and if so, reform yourself, that his censure may not affect you.

their connection is apparent; they often turn the beam in matters of the least importance.

LADY WASHINGTON'S REBUKE.
In the year 1789 General Washington yielded to the call of his countrymen and his own conviction of duty to the new-born state, and was installed as president of the young Republic.
His wife, Mrs. Martha Washington, generally called by courtesy Lady Washington, of course went up with her husband to the Government House.
She was a refined, thoughtful woman, with a great blending of strength, sweetness, and simplicity in her character. With the calm self-possession of a Christian lady she entered on her duties as wife of the president, and officially, the first woman in the land, while she continued to maintain in her habits and deportment the simplicity of dress and the sincerity of speech for which she had always been remarked.
At first she was almost overwhelmed with hosts of visitors, many of them idle and frivolous, she had to receive this was soon brought into rule. General Washington had a 'reception' on Wednesdays from one to five o'clock, and his wife on Fridays, for the same number of hours, dispensing with as much of mere ceremonial and state as possible.

There were, however, some ladies who wanted more splendor, and they resolved to ask a special audience, and try to alter the plans of the wife of their illustrious president.

One morning three fair dames appeared at the Government House; they were dressed out in the utmost gayety and splendor, as if nature had formed them merely to carry finery and trinkets. Diamonds sparkled in their ears and glittered on their necks. Their hair was puffed out, frizzled, crimped, and tortured in every form but that of Nature's elegance. They wore, also, high head-dresses, adorned with artificial flowers and nodding plumes, and flattering ribbons to crown the edifice of hair which fashion then decreed should enumber their heads and brains. Their hands emblazoned with ruffles, clasps and bracelets. Stiff muslin rose like foam around their chests and shoulders; and though their rich brocaded silks fell in costly folds about them, and partially hid the pressure that gripped in their waists, yet the pent-up heart had to sympathize with the oppressed brain, overweighted with fashion's load. They came rustling and fluttering into the presence of the lady they sought. She received them in a plainly-furnished room, in which she spent her morning.

With dignified courtesy she thoughtful matron rose to greet her visitors.
Her well filled book-case, made for use, not show, was behind her chair; her table, with her work-basket and materials for work, before her; and in her hand were, her knitting needles, the useful companions of many useful hours. Gravely, yet most courteously, she heard the remarks which, with faltering speech, they had come to make. For they did not find it so easy to speak of luxury and display as desirable, when they were face to face with the noble woman who, through years of anxiety and privation, had ministered to the wants and mitigated the sufferings of the soldiers during the terrible struggle for independence.
Somehow their their faces soon lost the defiant air and vain simper they had worn when they first entered her presence, and had deepened into seriousness and respectful attention as the wife of Washington, after hearing them, said:

"Ladies, you came to advise me, and, as far as kindness prompted you I am obliged to you for the motive, though I cannot act on your suggestions. You are all in the bloom of life. Many years, I trust, are before you. My age, even more, far more than my station, sanctions my giving you some advice. Dear ladies, suffer the word of exhortation. Should Christian women, honored wives and mothers, be content to aim at no higher glory than that of the insect that glitters in the sunbeam—to be as the fire-fly or the humming bird? You spoke of the greatness of my husband. His dear mother ever looked well to the ways of her household. She taught him to be industrious by her example, for her spinning wheel spun the clothes he wore from his earliest days; and she, like myself, loved the knitting needles." (She looked, as she spoke, at her knitting.) "Ladies, during eight years of ceaseless struggle the women of America—the mothers of the land—spent no money on finery for themselves. They spent all their available means in providing clothing for the army, which but for that succor must have perished in our long and bitter winters. I do not wish to boast; I did only my duty; nay, I know it was my privilege, as Washington's wife, to toil for the men under his command. I always went into winter quarters with him. In summer time I and his mother and my friends were at our spinning wheels.
Once, in the winter I had sixteen looms under one roof, all weaving cloth—coarse, indeed, but warm—for the soldiers of the nation. Trust me, women were made for nobler ends than merely to display finery, which mars rather than improves the graces that nature has bestowed." "I know," said one of the ladies, thoughtfully, "that Mrs.

Sarah Bache, the daughter of Dr. Benjamin Franklin, sold her ornaments and all that she could possibly spare to commence a fund, which other ladies in Philadelphia were induced to aid, both by hand and purse. They made I remember, 2,200 shirts in one season for the army."

"Yes, dear young ladies, the example of Franklin's daughter influenced the less thoughtful, but not less kind-hearted ladies of that city. One faithful woman—how much she can do to check the influence of luxury and folly!
Our countrywomen, before the troubles, had grown fond of foreign fashions, and it was feared that, as we depended for luxuries on Europe, the patriotic desire for independence might be checked by a cause so trivial and yet so dangerous as the frippery of female fashions. Mrs. Warren, I remember, did good service to the cause of liberty and truth when, in a poem she wrote, she satirized her countrywoman's love of dress."

"That poem," said another lady, "was one suggested by the remark of a friend of hers: 'That all articles of foreign commerce should be dispensed with; I for forget the words, but—"I can find them," said the lady president, reaching her hand to a book on the shelves behind her, and, after a little search, coming to the words:

An inventory clear
Of all she needs, Lamira offers here: Some lawns and lutestrings, blonde and Moclin lace,
Frings and jewels, furs and twocor cases; Gay cloaks and hats of every shape and size, Scarfs, cawkins, and ribbons of all dyes.
With ruffles stamped, and aprons of timbure; Tippets and handkerchiefs, at least three score, Add feathers, furs, rich satins, and ducapes, And head dresses in pyramidal shapes.
So weak Lamira and her wantess few Scarf, indeed, an antiquated page In youth, indeed, an antiquated page T'ought us the threatnings of a Hebrew sage Against wimples, mantles, curls, and crisping pins;
But mark not these among our modern sins, Our minds and manners are well understood, To settle in a stomach and hood.

The poor ladies, as the inventory was read over, looked down at their dresses with dismay. Alas at every article enumerated they were wearing. Impressed, not offended, they left the presence of the noble matron, hearing her words in their minds, and it is hoped, their influence in their hearts; for she gave not merely the precept of the lip, but the example of her life.— Harper's Bazar.

EXTRAORDINARY MIRAGE.
The Scotsman describes a mirage in the Firth or Forth, the most extraordinary instance which can be remembered, which occurred on a recent afternoon. The day was very hot and sultry, and there was a peculiarity about the atmosphere which is said to be observed in this country. About midday a thin, clear, and transparent kind of vapor, through which the surrounding objects began to make their appearance in the most fantastic and grotesque shape imaginable, settled over the sea. The phantasmagoria was principally confined to the mouth of the Firth; but at one time it embraced the Fife coast as far as the eye could reach, town, village, and hamlet being depicted high upon the horizon with remarkable distinctness.
Though the whole coast seemed at least half way up the horizon, the towns were very different, some of them having the houses inverted, while others appeared in the natural position. The Bass Rock, the Isle of May, and the rocks around Dunbar harbor, however, attracted most attention, from the extraordinary forms which they assumed.
The Bass, which at one time seemed to be flat upon the sea, suddenly shot up into a tall spiral column, apparently ten times its usual height, by surrounding battlements rising tier on tier, and presenting a most imposing spectacle. As usual, however the most fantastic shapes were presented by the May, which in the course of the afternoon, underwent an almost innumerable series of phantasmagoric transformations. At one time it was apparently as round as a circle, at another seemingly drawn out for miles against the horizon; now flat upon the water, then rising to ten times its usual height; occasionally portions appearing to break off and sail away, then to return and unite again—all within the space of a few minutes. Vessels in the offing appeared double—one on the water, and the other inverted in the air; and in one instance three figures of one vessel were distinctly visible—one inverted, another on the sea, and the third in its natural position between the two. The fishing boats proceeding to sea in the evening underwent the same transformations when only a few yards off the shore, the double appearance being distinctly visible within a certain distance.
The rocks at the harbor seemed to play fantastic tricks, opening and shutting, rising and falling, with apparent regularity. These extraordinary illusions lasted from midday till nightfall, and excited great interest among the inhabitants of Dunbar, numbers of whom collected in the Castle Park and at the harbor, for the purpose of witnessing the phenomena.

REVIVAL OF PEACH TREES.
A discovery of no small moment in the interest of the agriculturists has been made by Dr. George B. Wood, and communicated by him to the Am.
Philosophical Society, of which he is president. Peach trees in this vicinity after producing a few crops, not only cease bearing, but perish in a short time; whereas, the natural life is fifty or sixty years, or more. The cause of this defective power of growth is believed by Dr. Wood to be a deficiency of potash in the soil, and he assures us that if this alkali be supplied to the trees so that it shall reach the small roots and be absorbed, the fruit bearing power is restored and the fruit itself, its premature perishing, is revived.

Believing with most persons that the cause of the decay lay in worms at the root of the peach tree, he put in operation a plan which he had seen his father perform more than fifty years before, viz: of digging around the base of the stem a hole four or five inches deep, scraping away all the worms that could be found burrowing at the junction of the stem and root, and filling the hole thus made with fresh wood ashes from the fire which of course retained all their potash. This was done in the autumn of 1868; and with a result in the following spring at which he himself was astonished. The trees appeared to be restored to all their early freshness and vigor; they put forth bright green leaves, blossomed copiously, and bore a crop of fruit such as they had never borne before, many of the branches breaking down under the load of the peaches.

Dr. Wood, is reflecting on these results, and noticed that several of the peach trees had no worms, and come to the conclusion that we must look for an explanation to some other cause than the destruction of a few worms, and this cause he believes to be the ashes, the potash of which being dissolved by the rain, had descended along the roots to the rootlets, and presented to them the very food for want of which they were dying. Decaying apple trees bearing stunted and indecible fruit have been revived by a simple process, and with the like results.

NOT SUMMERS.
Appleton's Journal gives the following account of remarkably hot summers:
In 1132 the earth cracked by reason of the heat, the wells and streams in Alaska all dried up, and the bed of the river Rhine was dry. In 1152 the heat was so great that sand exposed to the sun's rays was hot enough to cook eggs. In 1160 great numbers of soldiers in the war against Bela died from the heat. In 1276 and 1277 crops of hay and oats failed completely. In 1303 and 1304 a man could have crossed dry shod over the rivers Seine, Loire, Rhine, and Danube. In 1392 and 1394 a multitude of animals perished by the heat, which was so great that the harvest dried up. In 1440 the heat was extraordinary. In 1538, 1539, 1540, and 1541, all the rivers were nearly dried up. In 1536 there was a great drought which extended over nearly the whole of Europe. In 1615 and 1616 there was in Italy, France and the Netherlands, an overpowering heat. In 1648 there were fifty eight consecutive days of extreme heat. 1678 was very hot, as was the first three years of the eighteenth century. In 1718 it did not rain a single time from April until October. The growing grain was burned, and the rivers dried up, and the theaters (but wherefore is not stated) were closed by command of the police. The thermometer showed thirty-six degrees Reaumer, equal to one hundred and thirteen degrees Fahrenheit. In irrigated gardens the fruit trees bloomed great. In 1723 and 1724 there was twice heat. The summer of 1746 was hot and dry, the growing grain, being calculated. It did not rain for months.
1743, 1754, 1760, 1767, 1768, and 1788 were years in which the summers were extremely hot. In the famous comet year—1811—the summer was warm, and the wine produced that year was very precious. In 1818 the theaters bad to be closed on account of the heat, the highest temperature being thirty five Reaumer, or one hundred and twelve Fahrenheit. During the three days of the revolution of 1830, the thermometer stood at thirty six degrees Centigrade, about ninety-seven Fahrenheit. In 1832, during the uprising of the 5th and 6th of July, the temperature was about the same.

POISON AND ANTIDOTES.
The following list of antidotes are given as reliable in cases of poisoning, to which all are in danger of being subjected some time, when perhaps, no medical skill or experienced advice is within reach.
The list gives some of the more common poisons, and the remedies most likely to be at hand in case of need.
The directions may be old, but in case you happen to get a good strong dose of poison down, you will not object to a cure on account of age.

Acids—These cause great heat and sensation of burning pain from the mouth down to the stomach. Remedy, magnesia, soda, pearlash, or soap dissolved in water, then use the stomach pump or emetic.
Alkalies—Best remedy is vinegar.

Arsenic—Remedies. In the first place evacuate the stomach, then give the white of eggs, lime water, or chalk and water, charcoal, and the preparation of iron, particularly hydrate.
Lead, white lead and sugar of lead —Remedies. Alum, cathartic, such as castor oil, and epsom salts.
In poisons by carbonic gas, remove the patient to open air, dash cold water on the head and body, and stimulate the lungs by hartshorn, at the same time rubbing the chest briskly.
Corrosive sublimate—Give white of eggs, freshly mixed with water, or soap and water freely.
Creosote—Give white of eggs and strong emetics.
Belladonna (night henbane)—Give emetics, and then plenty of vinegar and water, or lemonade.
Mushrooms, when poisonous—Give emetics, and then plenty of vinegar and water, with doses of ether, if handy.
Nitrate of silver (lunar caustic)— Give a strong solution of common salt and them emetics.
Opium—Give first a strong emetic of mustard water, then strong coffee and acid drinks; dash cold water on the head.
Laudanum—Same as opium.
Nux Vomica—First emetics, then brandy.
Oxalic acid (frequently mistaken for epsom salt)—Chalk, magnesia, or soap and water, and other soothing drinks.
Prussic acid—when there is time, administer chlorine in the shape of soda and lime. Hot brandy and water, hartshorn and turpentine, are also useful.
Snake bites, etc.—Apply immediately strong hartshorn, and take internally, also, give sweet oil and stimulants freely; apply a ligature tight above the part bitten, and then apply a cupping glass.<

M. E. WILCOX, of Lawrence.
County Commissioner.
J. M. TRUBY, of Sugar Creek.
Infantry Director.
JOHN H. BRENNER, of Canton.
County Surveyor.
R. E. WILSON, of Washington.

Remember!
Next Tuesday, October 11, is the voting day. Be sure to vote, and vote right—for the republican ticket—once more.

REPUBLICAN MEETINGS will be held as follows: MASS' LON, Thursday evening Oct. 6—be addressed by Hon. J. A. Ambler and H. S. Martin.
STANBURY SCHOOLHOUSE, Thursday, Oct. 6—be addressed by Wm. G. Myers, and R. E. Wilson, Esqs.
RICHVILLE, Friday evening, Oct. 7—addressed by Wm. G. Myers and A. L. Jones, Esqs.
EAST GREENVILLE, Saturday evening Oct. 8—be addressed by Wm. G. Myers, Esq. and Capt. Wm. M. Johnston.

Recollect, the election is to be held on next Tuesday, October 11th, this year of our Lord, 1870. All believers of right and progress are expected to vote, and vote right—for the republican ticket—this time.

WORKING MEN'S FRIENDS—who are they? The democracy claim to be the special friends of this numerous class. Millions of workmen ten years ago, even in this country did not own themselves much less the wages for the labor they for more than two hundred years were compelled to give to a class of aristocrats. Ten years ago the so-called democracy inaugurated a war because they could not spread this system of tyranny over every territory and state in the union. The war came, these millions of unpaid workers were freed, and they get pay for working now—and not only that, but they are voters too. Did the democracy bring these results? No—but if they had their way now they would try to reduce the late bondmen to involuntary servitude. Are such the friends of the working men? Let your votes tell on Tuesday next.

Rome, the once proud ruler of the world is now in the power of the Italian government, King Emanuel ruler. His army lately took possession of the city and deposed the power which for centuries has held the place. In consequence of this it is said that the pope is better off than before, because he is rid of the responsibilities of temporal affairs. It is even intimated that he may come to this country, and make it his abiding place. Our government makes religious liberty free to all, no sect or party being permitted to control others who differ from them in matters of belief. All good people concur in admiring this generous feature of our constitution.

Judge Black, of Pennsylvania, a member of Buchanan's cabinet, and a rebel sympathizer of the most approved pattern, recently attempted to defame the reputation of Mr. Stanton, the distinguished secretary of war, during Mr. Lincoln's administration. His aspersions, however, fall harmless, for they are so directly prompted by malice that no one, who is loyal to the cause of right, and to the integrity of the union, will be misled by them. Senator Wilson, of Massachusetts, has completely annihilated the falsehoods of Black in the October number of the Atlantic Monthly, and in doing so makes several astounding statements concerning certain democratic leaders then in power, which even now will be read with no ordinary interest. Mr. Stanton was hated by rebels and their sympathizers only because he was true to his country and to liberty.

The late elections are not at all exhilarating to the democracy. Vermont and Maine "went for them" sharp end first. That party has always entertained great expectations about the west helping it on, but within a few days elections in Colorado and Wyoming territories have been so better for it than the eastern reports. In Wyoming the women voted, and thus helped to keep down the party which favors oppression.

Although Brick Pomeroy is not of our way of thinking, politically, yet his plain, blunt manner of writing is of that sort that challenges attention, even when he pitches into our side. Tammany Hall and its rulers are the boiled down quintessence of democracy—what its chiefs say is the law of the party. Brick accuses them of selling out the prospects of the democracy for 1872 in his Democrat of the 21st ult. In the same paper of the 28th ult. he further develops this same New York democracy. Here are just a few items, for we have not room for but a portion of what he has to say of the party, whereof he is one of the high chiefs. These items are specimen bricks which nobody can misunderstand. Read—
The man who once said a lie well stuck to was better than a truth laid down the first plank of the present Tammany Hall platform.
Last winter, to gain power, the managers of Tammany promised offices to a dozen or more men for each place to be filled—Assessed clerks, bookkeepers, police officers, &c., &c.; a certain per cent. of their salaries to raise a corruption fund to be spent at Albany—Promised to better govern the city of New York than ever before, and thus, by lying, bribery, fraud and stealing, foisted a few false, reckless, scheming men into places of profit.
Now we have a city under Tammany rule.
Life never was so insecure in New York as now.
Taxes never were so high.
Office holders never acquired wealth with such rapidity as now, nor stole without restraint as they do and have under the new regime.
The good deeds of the democratic voters are weakened by the prodigality of those who promised retrenchment and reform, but who steal by the million to enrich a select few.
There are eight thousand convicts, criminals and unfortunates on Blackwell's Island, with hardly one but is more innocent and a more honest man than men we can find and will name who are the ring managers of Tammany Hall, and plunderers of the city.
And all this under the cloak of democracy.
Under the management of our present city officials, the credit of the city is not worth so much as the promise of a blackleg or a drunken prostitute. For they will keep their word, while the head Sachems of Tammany, claiming to own the city of New York, live by lying; thrive by trickery; fat in corruption; cheat their supporters; victimize the public; rob the tax payers; steal from every fund they handle; and pay audited claims of honest business men only on shares.
Tammany selects this thief for this office—that thief for that one. It is a liar for this office—that liar for that one.
Its career now is one of infamy. Its power is that of money. Its object that of plunder.
Its only aim now is to enrich its head thieves and Grand Sachems. Its managers, so few that they can be counted on five fingers, steal in one way and another over four millions of dollars a year from the tax-payers of New York city.

If Black don't know what democracy is, who does? and if he can't describe its leaders, who can? The foregoing are but a few items of what he says, and he proposes to keep up the warfare indefinitely.

While the weather has been calm and quiet here, with little rain, in other places terrible floods have visited the people. On the 30th ult., in various parts of Virginia the rivers rose higher than they were ever known, and the result is the destruction of much property; towns, cities and country places were alike devastated, while canals, bridges and other public improvements have suffered greatly. We have noticed no accounts of loss of life, but it is quite probable that in such a general destruction of property there must have been some accidents of this kind. Portions of Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire and Pennsylvania were also visited by great rains at the same time.

We are indebted to Mr. Wm. Anderson for some of his finest peaches, and a basket of luscious Catawbas. They found ready market here, and on experiment were decided quite good enough to be taken in the raw state.

Legal Notice.
THE STATE OF OHIO,
The County of Stark,
In the Court of Common Pleas.
Charles W. Burress, Guardian of the estate of Herman H. Burress, and Mary S. Burress, plaintiffs. vs.
Jacob L. Bachtel, Administrator, with the will annexed of Melchiah H. McClary, deceased; Caroline E. Burress, Harry H. McClary and Louis H. McClary, his wife, Elizabeth Stafford and John F. Stafford, Jr., Edwin Bayless and Richard M. Stafford defendants.

The defendant, Richard M. Stafford, who resides in the city of Chicago, and state of Illinois, will take notice that on the 10th day of May, 1870, the plaintiff filed his petition in the above named court, against the defendants above named, in a certain civil action; the substance of which petition is, that by the last will and testament of said Melchiah H. McClary, the executors in his said last will named, should pay the net proceeds of lot numbered one hundred and eleven, and thirty feet off the west side of lot numbered one hundred and twelve, in the above named town, city of Massillon, in the county and state aforesaid, to the said defendants, Caroline E. Burress, Louis H. McClary, and one Mary F. Stafford, during their natural lives, respectively, and that one third in fee should vest in the heirs of the body of each and either of them upon her decease; the executors said will, conveyed to said defendants said lot, and twelve acres, having declined to act as said executors, the defendant, Bachtel, was appointed administrator upon said estate with the will annexed, and that said administrator without any legal authority, sold and conveyed the aforesaid premises to one John McClary, for fifteen hundred dollars, who conveyed the same to the defendant, Bachtel, by whom the same is now held. That said premises, at the time of said sale to said McClary, were worth five thousand dollars, all of which the said Bachtel then well knew; that Herman H. Burress was the only living heir of the body of the said defendant, Caroline E. Burress, at the time of filing said petition; that said defendant, Bachtel, and John F. Stafford, Jr., minors aged four years and two years respectively, were then the only living heirs of the body of said Mary F. Stafford, and that said defendant, Louis H. McClary, was then without a living heir of her body. The prayer of said petition is that said lot, and twelve acres, be sold to said Bachtel, and said Bachtel be restored to said Bachtel as administrator for the uses in said will designated, and in case the said court finds said sale to said McClary and said Bachtel to be valid, that said Bachtel may stand charged as such administrator with five thousand dollars, as the balance due to said estate, and that the said Bachtel be restored to said Bachtel as administrator for the uses in said will designated, and in case the said court finds said sale to said McClary and said Bachtel to be valid, that said Bachtel may stand charged as such administrator with five thousand dollars, as the balance due to said estate, and that the said Bachtel be restored to said Bachtel as administrator for the uses in said will designated, and in case the said court finds said sale to said McClary and said Bachtel to be valid, that said Bachtel may stand charged as such administrator with five thousand dollars, as the balance due to said estate, and that the said Bachtel be restored to said Bachtel as administrator for the uses in said will designated, and in case the said court finds said sale to said McClary and said Bachtel to be valid, that said Bachtel may stand charged as such administrator with five thousand dollars, as the balance due to said estate, and that the said Bachtel be restored to said Bachtel as administrator for the uses in said will designated, and in case the said court finds said sale to said McClary and said Bachtel to be valid, that said Bachtel may stand LOCAL MATTERS.

DEDICATION.

The dedication of the Evangelical Lutheran Church, of Massillon, will take place on Sunday, October 16th, to which the whole of the English and German public are heartily invited. Services begin at half past nine o'clock A. M., at the old church, at present occupied by the congregation, and from there the congregation, with ministers and friends, will proceed to the new church, in procession, if the weather permit. The morning service will be held in German, and the afternoon service in English.

Another Edgewise service will be held on Monday evening—other German services will be held on Sunday evening, Monday forenoon, and Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. From sixteen to twenty pastors of our church will be present.

P. I. BUEHL.
The McLean & Hooper family sewing machine, price $35, on exhibition at Estep's.

You can buy napkins towels and crash at Ricks', very cheap.

Waterproofs, the nicest line at Humburger & Son's.

REMOVAL.

The subscribers having removed from the Opera building to the corner of Main and Mill streets formerly occupied by Mrs. C. P. Wilson, will continue

MILLINERY AND DRESS-MAKING

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.
They are provided at all times with every variety of Goods adapted to the wants of ladies, which they keep for sale, and will make to order every article of Dress in the latest and most fashionable styles.

The ladies of Massillon and vicinity are invited to give us a call, as we are fully prepared promptly to respond to their wishes. Misses BINGHAM, GILLET & CO.

NOTE.—We have just received a large and varied assortment of new goods—call and see them. Oct. 3 375-m Humburger & Son have the nicest home made flannels—just received—go and see them.

Thread collars, also mattress, linen and lace at Estep's.

Table linen only 37½ cents per yard at Ricks'.

Mr. Allen Tibbitt, is agent for the Mutual Life Assurance Co., N. Y. Office over Union Bank, Massillon.

Linen handkerchiefs, full lines, in Brussels, lace, hemstitch, bordered and plain, at Estep's.

Silk warp flannels 4-4 wide at Humburger & Son's.

Plaid cloaking at Ricks' in all colors.

The microscope shows the color of the hair due to a deposition of pigment in its substance. When the hair glands become clogged this pigment falls. One after another the hair becomes white, or fall out, producing baldness. Baldness is easy to prevent but hard to cure. Ayer's Hair Vigor stops it, even restores the hair sometimes, always restores its color. Immediate renovation is at once visible; softness, freshness and the gloss of youth. This great ornament should be preserved since it can be by Ayer's Hair Vigor, which is beautifully clean and free from anything injurious to the hair—Tiptone, Springfield, N. Y.

Nice gloves—Alexander's, and cheaper makes at Humburger & Son's.

Waterproof, all prices at Ricks' go and see them.

Woolen yarns, Germantown goods, zephyrs, breakfast shawls and other substantial, at Estep's.

The Orville fair will take place on the 12th, 13th and 14th of this month. It is anticipated that there will be a large attendance, as unusual attractions are held out to induce visitors to be there, among which is the ascent of a balloon by Mr. Seaverist, and many other novelties.

Table cloths, towels, crapes, napkins and furnishing goods generally, at Estep's.

Scarlet cloth and opera flannels at Humburger & Son's.

Look out for cheap goods! Ricks' will have theirs in a few days.

GONE EAST.—Wm. Humburger has just left for the eastern markets and will soon return with a nice stock of staple and fancy dry goods.

Estep has just opened a fresh lot of New-England flannels, all wool, in high colors—the best in the market.

Wm. F. Ricks is east, look out for the nice goods as he always displays a good taste in selecting his stock, you should not fail to call and see what they get.

Linen collars and cuffs, handkerchiefs and shirt fronts, new assortment just received at Humburger & Son's.

Wm. F. Ricks has just left for the east to purchase a new stock of seasonal goods.

We are indebted to our young friend, W. W. Earl, of Toledo, for special copies of the Blade of that place. They will be of particular use hereafter.

Dress goods, in merinoes, empress cloth and silk poplins selling at reduced prices at Humburger & Son's.

Fresh fish can now be had at different places in town at from 6 to 8 and 10 cents a pound.

We had a brief introduction of the equinoctial storm on Monday evening. It came accompanied with a heavy shower of rain, vivid lightning, heavy thunder and high wind. The last named agency left a few evidences of its violence. In West Massillon a barn was unroofed, trees blown down, and other damage done. As Mr. C. E. Taylor, of this office, was hurriedly passing the corner of Mill and Plum streets, bricks were blown from the top of a two story building, one of which struck him on the head, cutting the flesh so as to cause profuse bleeding, but fortunately not fracturing the skull. Dr. Long dressed the wound, and the patient is able to be about, though he narrowly escaped with his life.

Coal consumers (and they are legion here) will be glad to know that this indispensable article can be had at the rate of $4.30 per ton when a ton or more is taken at a time.

Mr. D. O. B. own, proprietor of the City Coal Yard, has an excellent article from the Newman's Creek mines for sale, which he is prepared to deliver in any part of the city.

Mr. Davidson, the distinguished iron bridge builder, has been manufacturing a considerable number of these useful structures the present season, and still continues the work. Such bridges as he makes are constructed to stand a long time, and not liable to rot and tumble down in a few years.

It is expected that the Excelsior Works of Mr. Edwin Bayless will soon go into operation, and if so, and the fires of the furnaces are once more lighted, it will have a tendency to liven up things. However, notwithstanding the comparative quietude for some weeks a large number of new buildings have been put up this season, or are now in course of erection. Our population is still increasing, shops and manufacturing multiplifying and extending, which are indications of prosperity that are not to be mistaken. The new railroad projects cannot but have a favorable effect in promoting the interests of the place, for that class of facilities will awaken the dormant energies of the most sleepy community.

The Canton papers give some account of the fair last week, stating many particulars, for which we have no room. In consequence of the threatening aspect of the weather the number of people in attendance was not so large, yet there was a fair turnout, and the exhibitions good as far as they went, but not what they could be made if every one would take more interest in this annual gathering. A comparatively few in every county has to keep their fairs, while they are designed for all. While many go there for improvement, many others attend to criticize, grumble, and had a fault, yet the latter will do nothing to make things better. Ought these things to be?

The new and beautiful German church (St. Paul's Lutheran) is nearly finished, and will soon be opened for dedication, as may be seen elsewhere. Workmen are now putting their last touches on it. A large and splendid organ, manufactured at Boston, the most approved plan, possessing extraordinary capacity, will be in place before the time of dedication. As it is expected that everybody will soon go to see this elegant structure it is useless to try to describe it, even if we could do so; but visitors who intend to be surprised at the combination of improvements which will meet them on every side. No pains have been spared to render the place a pleasant one in every possible way.

Bro. McGregor acknowledges it is a sin—on, perhaps, of the unpardonable sins against orthodox democracy—but he says he is going to vote for Col. Bull for congress, and advises all his friends to do likewise. This must be humiliating for a leader of the once proud, defiant democracy, to come down to the necessity of voting for one of the high officers of the nation in the shape of a black republican. The great end to be accomplished thereby is to beat Mr. Ambler—that is on the principle that the end justifies the means—do evil that good may come. But Mr. A. can't be defeated in that way. And Bro. Allen has relinquished all his congressional ambition, and just as like as not will also vote for that black republican. Is democracy going up or down when it comes to this?

Every Saturday for Oct. 8th sends a fine bird's eye view of Paris, which gives the beholder a pretty good idea of the splendor, magnificence and peculiar features of the famous city, whose fate is now in such a peculiar position as to arrest the attention of the civilized world.

That beautiful monthly, Merry's Museum for October gives an interesting account of a walk over the White Mountains with illustrations, and other pleasant, instructive reading. By sending $1.50 the subscribers will receive a fine number of the Museum, and a copy of the book, "The White Mountains," which is a large demand for it.

The equinoctial storm, after raging in other parts of the world has at length come upon us. Up to the first of this month it came mildly accompanied by no wind, and but little rain.

PROMPTNESS.—We understand that the insurance companies (of which A. Ryder, of this place is local agent), are responding to the calls on them in the coal region. Mr. Burton received his pay in full from the Pacific Insurance Comp. of San Francisco within ten days of the date of the fire. The Willow Bank Coal Comp., whose engines were burned, received from the Enterprise, Home, Putnam and Pacific, $4,500, promptly. Cyrus Young's loss is now being adjusted. The Andes Pacific Enterprise—lost $4,500, part of which is already paid. Are not these incendiaries satisfied? Part of this money at least comes from widows and orphans who own stock in these companies. The coal proprietors are not much injured. To be sure their business is injured and delayed by this malignity, but they will hardly feel their loss, thanks to this system of equalization! We also understand that all insurance business is on the increase. All business of importance should be insured, and those who neglect this wise provision may, when too late, see cause for regret.

As it is expected that everybody will soon go to see this elegant structure it is useless to try to describe it, even if we could do so; but visitors who intend to be surprised at the combination of improvements which will meet them on every side. No pains have been spared to render the place a pleasant one in every possible way.

Bro. McGregor acknowledges it is a sin—on, perhaps, of the unpardonable sins against orthodox democracy—but he says he is going to vote for Col. Bull for congress, and advises all his friends to do likewise. This must be humiliating for a leader of the once proud, defiant democracy, to come down to the necessity of voting for one of the high officers of the nation in the shape of a black republican. The great end to be accomplished thereby is to beat Mr. Ambler—that is on the principle that the end justifies the means—do evil that good may come. But Mr. A. can't be defeated in that way. And Bro. Allen has relinquished all his congressional ambition, and just as like as not will also vote for that black republican. Is democracy going up or down when it comes to this?

That beautiful monthly, Merry's Museum for October gives an interesting account of a walk over the White Mountains with illustrations, and other pleasant, instructive reading. By sending $1.50 the subscribers will receive a fine number of the Museum, and a copy of the book, "The White Mountains," which is a large demand for it.

The equinoctial storm, after raging in other parts of the world has at length come upon us. Up to the first of this month it came mildly accompanied by no wind, and but little rain.

The New Atlas of Stark county published by F. W. Beers & Co., will be delivered to the subscribers in a few days.

NEW YORK CITY, March 28, 1870.
Having used Dr. Whittlesley's medicine, I have no hesitation in saying that in my case it proved a decidedly efficacious remedy for dyspepsia, and with the removal of the complaint, promoted a healthy action of the digestive organs generally. I should judge from the effect that it combined ingredients to give both a mild tonic and aperient, contributing to the salutary action of the liver and the purifying of the blood. Indeed, so happy have been the results, that I desire to testify to its efficacy. I feel confident that it will be of great service to all who are afflicted with dyspepsia, and who are unable to procure relief by any other means. I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who are afflicted with dyspepsia, and who are unable to procure relief by any other means. I have no hesitation in recommending it to all who are afflicted with dyspepsia, and who are unable to procure relief by any other means.

Religious enthusiasm in Bloomington, Ill., has developed a passion among some inhabitants for appearing in public in the primitive costume of our first parents.

The Wallachian police have a way of eliciting testimony from refractory witnesses. They hang them up with hot eggs under their armpits, and then drive splinters under their finger nails.

A wag, reading in one of Brigham Young's manifestoes, "that the great resources of Utah are her women," exclaimed: "It is very evident that the prophet is disposed to husband his resources."

"Why," said Bob Bitters to William Swipes, when he caught him imbibing something stronger than ice-water, "I thought you had signed the pledge?" "So I have," replied the incorrigible Swipes, "but all signs fail in dry weather."

A charitable person was boasting to Lord Palmerston: "I spend half my income in charity, I assure you, I do indeed! I have given thousands of pounds away." Generosity covers everything. "Including modesty, sometimes," added his lordship.

Sold at auction—the green-horns who patronize mock sales.

Railroad accident—when the train arrives at the time stated in the guide.

"All's well that ends well." That's why females with small feet are counted pretty.

A complacent editor announces that "several deaths are unavoidably delayed till next week."

A confident lady lately asked at a book-store for the Apothecary that had the book of wisdom in it.

You can't persuade a rainbow to make its appearance on a clear sky. It is resolutely bent on the cloud.

What is that which Adam never saw, never possessed, and yet he gave to each of his children? Parents.

Why is the tolling of a bell like the prayer of a hypocrite? Because it is a solemn sound by a thoughtless tongue.

A friend, the other day, called a thin young lady a spare girl. There are several spare girls in most large unmarried families.

Alluding to chignons, a lady remarked, "A girl now seems all head." "Yes, till you talk to her," blurted out a confirmed old cynic.

The man who married three sisters in succession excused himself for so doing on the ground that he got off with only one mother-in-law.

A witty writer says: "Lawyers and clients remind me of the two rows of people at a fire; one passing along full buckets, and the other empty ones."

The married people of Ohio must have many "odd fancies," for the statistics show that the divorces in that state are equal to one twenty-fourth of the marriages.

The prisoners in the jail at Dover, Delaware, are exceedingly indignant because their quarters are so uncomfortable. The cows, they affirm, stray in there and bother them when they seek to enjoy their afternoon naps. Now, this is too bad; indeed it is. Why will not the authorities pay some attention to their complaint? The said prisoners are disposed to feel resigned and their rights should be respected.

Mrs. Sam. Colt of revolver fame is the richest widow woman in America.

Edwin Forrest will play in the south this season.

Last week five hundred cars were standing in the freight yards and on the tracks of Milwaukee, unable to discharge their wheat. This immense glut is from old wheat, and the merchants estimate that there are 1,000,000 bushels more of the crop of 1869 to come.

Miss Clara Barton, who was conspicuous during our late war for devotion to our sick and wounded soldiers, has been doing the same good work among the maimed soldiers of France and Germany. When last heard of she was at Strasburg.

McDONALD & BRUCE

The Independent,

Massillon, Ohio,

Is now Seven Years Old, and

"Still Lives."

Without boasting of being an organ of immense influence, we may with diffidence claim that the paper is not without usefulness in the right direction, ever contending for justice in all the living issues of the day. But its principal business has ever been to subserve the local interests of the community with which it is identified, and so it proposes to continue. Its home record of the ever varying phases of business, of the prosperity of the city, and of the social and moral state of society here, with other matters too numerous to specify, will give those who come after us, and have occasion to examine the files of this paper, a faithful history of the years of its existence.

We solicit the continued patronage of our people in the confidence that we shall render satisfaction—at least as near as we can come at it—and for such as are removing elsewhere we hope to make the INDEPENDENT a very welcome visitor.

Dr. J. LONG,

Eclectic Physician,

Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.

Office on Main street, four doors east of the American Hotel.

All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.

Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constituting symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgment of both patient and physician.

Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourselves whether he understands your case sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters, JAMES LONG, M. D., Massillon, Ohio.

MRS. ALLEN'S

Hair Restorer & Zylbalsamum

Are so uniformly grateful and beneficial, that they are with justice called the natural strengtheners of the human hair. They are two entirely separate and distinct preparations, not to be used together at one time.

Mrs. Allen's Hair Restorer

Never fails to satisfy the most refined and cultivated. A guarantee goes with every bottle, that it will quickly restore gray or white hair to its original youthful beauty, gloss and color; after its use a few times the hair will grow thicker and stronger. It will stop its falling and induce a healthy and luxuriant growth. It is an exquisite hair dressing, agreeable, harmless and healthy. Entirely different from most other preparations for the hair, its composition and ingredients are nourishing, giving life and vigor to the roots.

Mrs. Allen's Zylbalsamum

This exquisite preparation is free from any sediment, and is a toilet treasure. The urgent want of a simple Hair Dressing, for the youth of both sexes, first induced the manufacture of the Zylbalsamum, and the sale of it is perfectly immense, not only in this country, but in Europe.

EXTRACTS FROM A FEW LETTERS.

"Your Zylbalsamum is used by every member, young and old, of our family, and we consider it invaluable. Should my gray hair appear, we shall try your Hair Restorer, which we hear very highly spoken of."

"Father and mother use your Hair Restorer, and are delighted with it. It soon restored their gray locks to their youthful color, but daughters and son still find in the Zylbalsamum all their hair requires."

From the Principal of one of our large Female Seminaries: "Your Zylbalsamum has been used for many years by myself and family, and is the favorite among our young ladies."

Continues to treat all private diseases, syphilis in all its forms, gonorrhea, gleet, stricture, etc., and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated—specifics, blisters, or venereal disease, or any other disease, or any other cause, and which produce some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, humors, decay of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally so proscribing the sexual system, as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured.

It is self-evident that the physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire a greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is convenient to visit the city, the doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be sent by mail or express.

The doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages, that gives a full exposition of venereal and urinary diseases, that can be had free at office, or by mail, in sealed envelope, for two stamps. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

DR. PIERCE'S ALT. EXT. OR GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY

This is the most thorough blood purifier yet discovered, and cures all humors from the worst scrofula to a common eruption. Pimples and blotches on the face, and a scaly or rough skin, which are such annoying blemishes to many young persons, yield to the use of a few bottles of this wonderful medicine. From one to eight bottles cures salt rheum, erysipelas, scald head, ring worms, boils, scaly eruptions of the skin, scrofula sores, ulcers, and cancer in the mouth and stomach. It is a pure medicinal extract of native roots and plants, combining in harmony nature's most sovereign curative properties, which God has instilled into the vegetable kingdom for healing the sick. It is a great restorer for the strength and vigor of the system. Those who are languid, sleepless, have nervous and chills, or any of the affections of weakness, will find convincing evidence of its restorative power upon trial. At you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated and despondent, have frequent headache, mouth tastes badly in the morning, irregular appetite and tongue coated, you are suffering from torpid liver or biliousness. In many cases of liver complaint only a part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy. For the cure of a nervous complaint of the bowels it is a never failing remedy, and one who have used it for this purpose are loud in its praise. In bronchial, throat and lung diseases, it has produced many truly remarkable cures, where other medicines had failed. Sold by druggists at $1 per bottle. Prepared at the Golden Medical Laboratory of R. V. PIERCE, M. D. Buffalo, N. Y. 63-3m
